

Terraced houses Buchholz Ost IBA Berlin

Berlin
Residential buildings

The terraced houses follow the idea of a growing house, which adjusts itself to the different spatial, organisational, and functional needs of its residents over life time. The compact main building (c. 130 m²) is elevated and offers room for two up to four persons. The parking area is located underneath the building. In further expansion phases the house can be expanded with a studio or workshop, an office, or an additional living room with up to 25 m². Moreover, the house can be expanded with an additional building structure with up to 85 m² in second row.
